TO OUR NEIGHBORS

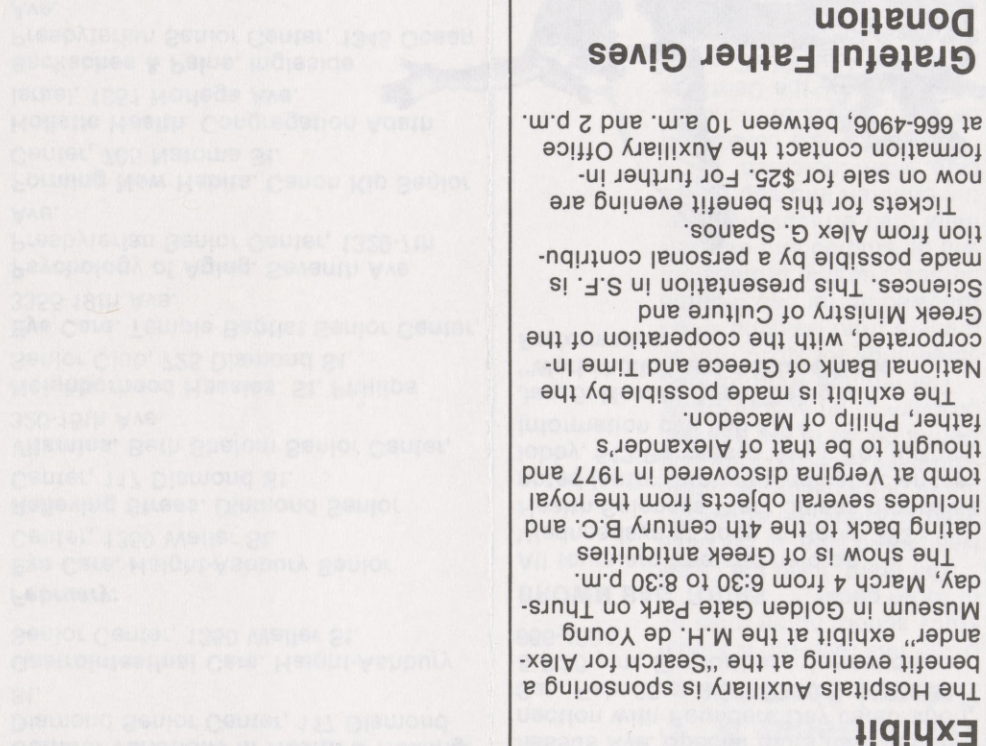
January & February, 1982, Vol. VII, No. 1

First Founders Day February 20

The neighborhood is invited to attend UCSF's first annual Founders Day celebrating the campus's second century and Francis A. Sooy's 10 years as chancellor of the campus. The oldest campus in the UC system, UCSF first contributed programs to the University of California more than 108 years ago.

Special events for the community and parents of students on Wednesday, February 17 are:

- Historical Exhibit, called "the Origins of Excellence," which continues daily, 9 a.m.-5 p.m., through Sunday. Held in the Millberry Union combined lounges, 500 Parnassus Avenue, this exhibit will bring together for the first time the photographs, artifacts and historical documents that tell the history of the campus from its beginnings to World War II. It will feature several platform displays, including a Victorian dentist's office, a turn-of-the-century pharmacy and a variety of fascinating pieces of old medical equipment.
- Special Brown Bag Lecture entitled "The Zakheim Frescoes." Masha Jewett, daughter of the artist Bernard Zakheim, will describe the frescoes which depict the medical history of California and UCSF. Held in Toland Hall (room U 142) at noon: enter through 533 Parnassus Avenue.
- Historical Exhibit Reception for the community and parents of students. Held in Millberry Union combined lounges from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m.



UCSF as it looked during the turn of the century.

- Community Health Science Lecture. UCSF's biochemist David W. Martin, Jr., will present "DNA Recombination: A Discussion for the Community," in the Langley Porter Auditorium, 401 Parnassus Avenue at 7:30 p.m.

Founders Day itself is on Saturday, February 20. As a special event the Founders Clock will be dedicated at the east wing of Millberry Union at 11:30 a.m. The ceremony will start the clock ticking for the first time in more than a quarter of a century. The beautiful original Seth Thomas clock, a landmark for the UCSF family and for the neighboring community, was part of the old Medical School building from 1897 until the building's demolition in 1967. It has been in storage since that time.

Also on Saturday, special tours of the campus will be held starting at the Visitors/Information Center, lobby of Medical Sciences, 513 Parnassus Avenue at 9:30, 10:30 a.m., 2:30 and 3:30 p.m. In addition, UCSF will be seen on TV in the Millberry Union lobby (adjacent to the historical exhibit) from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., and a multimedia slide show "UCSF Then and Now" will be shown in Millberry Union Madrone Room from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Grant to Help S.F. Youth

UCSF's Department of Pediatrics has received a $600,000 four-year grant from the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation to consolidate health services for S.F. youth who are at high risk for serious health problems.

The program, based at San Francisco General Hospital, will coordinate and strengthen services that already exist in the city to address venereal disease, teenage pregnancy, alcohol abuse, drug abuse, violence and mental illness. S.F.'s incidence of these problems is higher than the national average.

UCSF is one of 20 teaching hospitals in the U.S. selected to receive grants for such a program. Collaborating in the program are the City and County Health Department, Mount Zion Hospital, Kaiser-Permanente Medical Center, Letterman General Hospital, the S.F. Unified School District and a variety of community service agencies including Hospitality House and the S.F. Youth Guidance Center.

In addition, SFGH is coordinating a federally-funded Teenage Pregnancy and Parenting Project, sponsored by several public and private agencies. The project will coordinate services for pregnant teens, fathers and extended families. Services include health care referral, adoption counseling, educational support, job counseling and day care referral.

Free Health Science Lectures

The last two lectures in a series of Community Health Science programs will be held on Wednesdays, January 27 and February 17 in the Langley Porter Auditorium, 401 Parnassus Avenue from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

On January 27, Robert Langridge, director of UCSF's Computer Graphics Laboratory, will present "Computer Images of Proteins and DNA — A Layman's Introduction." The lecture will be illustrated with slides, a research film, and extracts from the Today Show and Evening Magazine showing the Computer Graphics Laboratory.

On February 17, biochemist David W. Martin, Jr., in conjunction with our Founders Day activities, (see news item in this issue) will give a layman's interpretation of how DNA molecules can be recombined to produce special hormones and vaccines.

The series is free and sponsored by the Office of Public Service Programs and the Committee on Arts and Lectures. For further information contact Vida Labrie, senior planner of the series, 666-3206.

New "Visit Vision"

A new program called "Visit Vision" has been set up in both UC and Moffitt Hospital lobbies for patients who cannot have visitors in their rooms. Visitors can now go to the lobbies and dial the patient's telephone number, enabling the patient to see the visitor on closed circuit TV and talk by phone. Instructions have been placed above connecting telephones in each hospital lobby.

Alexander Benefit Exhibit

The Hospitals Auxiliary is sponsoring a benefit evening at the "Search for Alexander" exhibit at the M.H. de Young Museum in Golden Gate Park on Thursday, March 4 from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.

The show is of Greek antiquities dating back to the 4th century B.C. and includes several objects from the royal tomb at Vergina discovered in 1977 and thought to be that of Alexander's father, Philip of Macedon.

The exhibit is made possible by the National Bank of Greece and Time Incorporated, with the cooperation of the Greek Ministry of Culture and Sciences. This presentation in S.F. is made possible by a personal contribution from Alex G. Spanos.

Tickets for this benefit evening are now on sale for $25. For further information contact the Auxiliary Office at 666-4906, between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Grateful Father Gives Donation

UCSF's Brain Tumor Research Center has received a generous donation from a very grateful father and daughter.

Three years ago, Jennifer Nadia Slusher was diagnosed with a very rare cystic tumor at the base of her brain. The deadly tumor already had begun to cause changes in her behavior. Jennifer's father, Howard, brought her to UCSF where physicians treated her. Jennifer had quick and perfect results.

Recently a classmate of Jennifer's died with the same disease. This prompted Jennifer to ask her father to raise money so that "kids with my kind of disease can get good treatment." Moved by his daughter's request, Howard Slusher recently presented the Brain Tumor Research Center with a check for $5,000.
